From the Paris Gazette, dated Oct. 11.

Dantzick, September 18.

WE have Advice from Samogitia, that Prince Sapieha great General of Lithuania, ſummon'd lately the Nobility of the 21 Diviſions of that Province, to meet at Roſienne; whither they all repair'd on Horſeback, with their Standards; that after ſome Debate, they declar'd for the Confederacy againſt King Auguſtus, declaring he had forfeited the Crown by violating the Pacta Conventa and the Fundamental Laws of the Kingdom: that they approv'd the Election of King Staniſlaus, and promis'd to be faithful to him: that they choſe the Sieur Zawiſza Marſhal of their Confederacy, and nominated Deputies to wait upon the new King, and congratulate him on his Acceſſion to the Crown. Laſtly, they allow'd 8 days time to thoſe who were not preſent at the Aſſembly, and three Weeks to the Officers and other Troops of Prince Wieſnowiski and the Sieur Oginski, in which time they muſt enter into the Confederacy, on pain of being declar'd Rebels to their Country. They likewiſe conſented to the laying a Tax of three Crowns upon every Houſe. Theſe Advices add, that Prince Sapieha was preparing to go to Vilna, the chief Town of Lithuania, and of which he is Palatin, to aſſemble the Nobility of that Palatinate, to exhort them to joyn in the Confederacy of Warſaw; and afterwards to invite the other Palatinats of Lithuania, ſome of which have already own'd King Staniſlaus, to take the like Reſolutions.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 16.

Venice, October 3. The Turkiſh Envoy, who had been here ſome time, had an Audience of Leave of the Senate the 22d of laſt Month. The 27th he and his Retinue imbark'd in ſeveral Gallies belonging to the Republick, which are to carry him to Patraſſo, whence he will proceed to Conſtantinople. He left this Place, well pleas'd with the good Reception he found here, as well as with the Magnificent Preſents that were made to him on the Part of the Republick. Thoſe Preſents conſiſted of ſix fine Looking-glaſſes, ſeveral Boxes full of Eſſences; 24 Gowns after the Eaſtern Faſhion, made of Engliſh Broad Cloath, ſix of them being richly embroider'd with Gold; and a Box of Gold in the form of a Purſe, with 1000 Gold Zequins in Specie in it. We have Advice, that General Leiningen is in the Breſſan not far from the Capital Town of that Province, where he waits to be joyn'd by two Regiments and ſome Recruits, with a great Number of Horſes for remounting his Cavalry, that are coming to him from Tyrol. After they have joyn'd him, he will have an Army of about 18000 Men; and he ſeems to have a Deſign to march through the Milaneze, to ſuccour the Duke of Savoy; hoping to ſucceed as well as Count Staremberg did in the like Enterprize towards the end of laſt Year. The Grand Prior of France makes Preparation to oppoſe him; but the Forces he has under him do not ſeem to be ſufficiently ſtrong to ſtand againſt the Germans.

Vienna, October 4. Count Cohari, who with the Baron de Zeiler, and the Count de Lamberg, is nominated his Imperial Majeſty's Plenipotentiary to treat of an Accommodation with the Counts Berezeni and Caroli, and other Deputies of the Malecontents; is actually gone from hence for Schemnitz the Place appointed by the Malecontents for the Treaty. He will be follow'd tomorrow by the Baron de Zeiler, Monſieur Bruyninx, the Envoy of the States General, who the Malecontents deſire ſhould aſſiſt at the Treaty in Quality of Mediator. Mean time all is quiet in Hungary, the Suſpenſion of Arms which the Emperor firſt granted from the 13th of September till the end of that Month, being prolong'd to the 15th of this. The Turkiſh Envoy ſet out from hence on his return to Conſtantinople 8 days ago, well ſatisfied with the Honours that have been done him here, and the Preſents given him by the Emperor. The 1ſt of this Month, being the Birth-day of King Charles III. of Spain, on which he entred into the 20th Year of his Age, it was celebrated at Court with great Magnificence; and their Imperial Majeſty's receiv'd the Compliments on that ſubject of all the Court and of the Forreign Miniſters. The Marqueſs de Prie, Ambaſſador of Savoy, went Poſt from hence the 2d inſtant to go to the Grand Army of the Allies on the Rhine, to deſire the Generals of that Army to ſend ſpeedy and ſufficient Succours to his Royal Highneſs.
